WILLIAM COLLIER ON NATIONAL PROGRAM

Frohman Presents Popular on the Side."

Charles Fromman is to present Willam Collier at the National Theater week in a comedy, "A Little Water authors were responsible for Mr. Collier's earlier success, "Caught in the Rain." and in their newest joint cffort they are said to have even excelled that funny farce.

In "A Little Water on the Side," Mr. Collier has one of the best roles in recent years, and the comedy is replete surrounded Mt. Collier with a splendid supporting company, including Paula Marr, William Collier, jr., Grant Stew-Marr. William Collier, Jr., Grant Stew-rt, Jessie Giendenins, Dorothy Unger. Hazel Sexton, Beatrice James, Elennore Goodspeed, Charles Dow Cark, Henry Weaver, Nicholas Judels, John Adam Edward Moore, William Ward, and James Shevran. The comedy is in three acts and has been mounted and pro-duced with the customary Frohman "Within the Law," with Heien Ware in the star role, and a company of New York players, comes to the Belasco Theater for a week's engagement Monday ovening. This powerful drama is referred to as "the play which started samething." It batters down the bars of questionable social and commercial systems; it mercilessly exposes the insults of starvation wages, hypocricy of the courts, and disgraceful police practice outs. aw courts, and disgraceful police praces: it drags the unprosecuted crimi-is protected by modern society into limelight of public scorn.

The September Morn Diving Girls will come for a return engagement to the Casino Theater next week. The act is devoid of objectionable features. It was devoid of objectionable features. It was presented at the Casino a few weeks ago and made the record of the house for attendance and applause. Walker and Ill, comedians, will present their sketch entitled "Just a Girl." Atkins as gypsy singers and musicians. The Aerial Lyons will give a performance on the trapeze, and Harry Niles will give a comic monologue. Monday evening there will be a "Surprise Party;" Tuesday and wednesday evening, the Country Store; Thursday evening, the prize dancing springtime, and a choral number of the catholic church, or choruses expressing the springtime, and a choral number of the catholic church, or choruses expressing the springtime, and a choral number of the catholic church, or choruses expressing the springtime, and a choral number of the catholic church, or choruses expressing the springtime, and a choral number of the catholic church, or choruses expressing the springtime, and a choral number of the catholic church, or choruses expressing the springtime, and a choral number of the catholic church, or choruses expressing the springtime, and a choral number of the catholic church, or choruses expressing the springtime, and a choral number of the catholic church, or choruses expressing the springtime, and a choral number of the catholic church, or choruses expressing the springtime. The Godewskip Troupe of Russian inneers and vocal artists will appear in an offering of Russian dances, songs and instrumental selections, in Russian costume and with special scenery as one of the features of the Cosmos Theater bill next week. Harry Hayward and his company in his new dramatic offering. The Masquerade" will be another feature. Kolb and Harland will illustrate the evolution in costumes, songs, and the evolution in costumes, songs, and manners from 1860 to 1920, and Holden and Harron will offer their own special-ty. Other acts will be announced later.

shows better craftmanship in construc-tion than many musical comedies, be-cause it has a consistent plot which mingles a bit of pathos and sentiment with the songs and fun. There is much new business and the elaborate settings and costumes are fresh and beautiful. There are sixteen musical interpola-tions and a large oborus. tions and a large chorus.

Next Tuesday afternoon at the New National, the Philadelphia Orchestra, under the direction of Leopold Stokowski, will give the first of three concerts that have become a feature of the Capital's musical season. As soloist for the initial performance, Josef Hofmann will facing them up for the stamping materials and the stamping materials and the stamping materials. Tickets for the series or for the single concert are on sale at the office of T, Arthur Smith.

That the elementary feelings and pasions of human nature were the same eighteen centuries ago as the are today is most forcibly illustrated in George Kleine's photo drama exquisite, The Last Days of Pompeii," which

The Last Days of Pompeii," which comes to the Columbia next week with matinees daily thereafter.

The principal characters of the story are Nydia, the blind fower girl, who loves the handsome and wealthy Greek youth, Glaucus, who pities the blind girl, but is himself in love with Ione, the Athenian maiden. Another virile factor is the proud Egyptian priest, Arbaces, whose passion for Ione leads him to terrible extremes, even to murdering her brother, Apecides. Then there are the idle pleasure seekers, Clodius, and Sal'ust, friends of Glaucus, and the repulsive sorceress of Vesuand the repulsive sorceress of Vesu-vius, who herself had her love tale.

An event of interest in the Congressonal, official, and society world of Washington will be the presentation by Preston Gibson at B. F. Keith's theater next week of "His Secretary", a comedy of Congressional life, by Mrs. A. S. Burleson deplicting the trials besetting a member of Congress whose secretary leaves him in a lurch. It is said to reflect some of the humorous experiences of herself and husband during his long service as a representative in Corress. Another feature will be the appearance of the Chinese Caruso, Prince Lai Mon Kim, who will be publicly honored by his countrymen.

The stellar attraction will be "the girl with the gieful smile". Belle Story, the singing comedienne who will give some of her. new topical songs. Next will be the light comedian Edward Lander, in giving Grant Stewart's farce "He Tried to be Nice".

Harry Gilfoil, the Washington comedian, as Baron Sands, the ancient Beau Beau Beau the said to rent, table board, etc., will be received at our special rate of 4c per line.

Sing Chorus Motets

A program containing two impressive motets of the Catholic Church, a group of choruses expressing the spirit of springtime, and a choral number of unusual tenderness and intensity was presented yesterday afternoon in the Columbia Theater by the Motet Choir of more than 100 voices, under the able directorship of Prof. Otto T. Simon, with Mrs. Simon at the plano, George Wilson also serving as accompanist. After the motet numbers, the choir was heard in the three songs of spring—"Spring" SEnchantment," "The Evening Star, of Coleridge-Taylor, and the madrigal in six parts, "Hark, How the Birds." Mrs. Morgan Bradford contributed two contralto vocal numbers, the first, "Elegie." being accompanied on the cello by Ernest Lent, Two solos for a tenor voice were given by Louis cello by Ernest Lent. Two solos for a tenor voice were given by Louis Thompson, then came "The Tyger," the words of which are by the poet and mystic, William Blake, while it has been treated musically with feeling and skill by the English composer, Bantock. The Christmas music followed, John Water correins the solo parts. It the uplifting character of the con
